

PCC Flex Self-Assessment – Overview

What

This is an anonymous student self-assessment - students are asked to honestly evaluate themselves on their own performance and skill level on 7 core Institutional Student Learning Outcomes. This assessment is intended to be used in addition to your own OR in lieu of an assessment that is disrupted due to COVID.

Who

Students currently enrolled in PCC Flex and PCC Hybrid Flex courses only – fully online and face-to-face classes (e.g. clinicals) do not apply. In the majority of cases, it should be seen as a supplementary assessment, meaning you should continue to conduct the same assessment(s) as you have in the past wherever possible, and add the student self-assessment as a secondary assessment.

Why

This student self-assessment is easy to implement and will hopefully produce highly informative results that will guide decisions for future training related to PCC Flex classes. We encourage all instructors currently teaching PCC Flex classes to conduct this simple and easy assessment activity to help us collect meaningful data on the PCC Flex learning experience across the college.

When

Toward the end of the semester – as always, assessment scores are due in eLumen by the grading deadline!

How

Follow the instructions posted in the PCC Flex Self-Assessment Master Course in D2L to copy the “PCC Flex Self-Assessment” into your own course shell. Alternatively, a Paper Version is available to download and print should you wish to administer the assessment in person. After administering the self-assessment, you will be emailed a report of your students’ results.

Questions? Need Help? Contact Liz Medendorp at liz.medendorp@pueblocc.edu!